

Multiple entry consolidated (MEC) groups

About this section

Section C10 provides information on the formation, composition, operating processes and cessation of MEC groups. It comprises:

- explanations of MEC groups and how they differ from consolidated groups
- detailed worked examples describing a range of events, rules and processes that may apply during a MEC group's formation, operations and cessation.

Section contents

Overall explanations

Multiple entry consolidated (MEC) groups.....	C10-1
MEC groups – notices to be given to the Commissioner.....	C10-1-110
Group conversions.....	C10-1-210

Worked examples

Formation and conversion

Choice on formation, special conversion events and acquisition of new eligible tier-1 companies	C10-2-110
Original and new eligible tier-1 companies of a MEC group.....	C10-2-115
Transitional provision for foreign-held, Australian resident subsidiaries to be members of a MEC group.....	C10-2-120
Provisional head company	C10-2-130
A consolidated group is created from a MEC group.....	C10-2-140

Cost setting at joining and formation

Cost setting rules for assets of a MEC group – at joining and formation times	C10-2-210
Tax cost setting of assets – expansion of a MEC group to include new eligible tier-1 companies	C10-2-215

Losses

Adjusting available fraction – eligible tier-1 company joins MEC group ..	C10-2-310
Apportioning the use of losses – eligible tier-1 company joins part-way through income year	C10-2-320
MEC groups and losses – determining whether the focal company satisfies the continuity of ownership test	C10-2-325
Identifying the test company to determine continuity of ownership of the focal company in a MEC group (COT transfer of losses).....	C10-2-330
Identifying the test company to determine continuity of ownership of the focal company in a MEC group (SBT satisfied).....	C10-2-340
Determining the start of a test company's loss year to assess the continuity of ownership of the focal company in a MEC group (COT transfer of a loss)	C10-2-350
Determining the start of a test company's loss year to assess continuity of ownership of the focal company in a MEC group (special conversion event).....	C10-2-360

Freezing the ownership of the test company – COT transfer of a loss to the head company of a MEC group	C10-2-370
Freezing the ownership structure of a MEC group – when a loss-making company becomes head company of the group	C10-2-380
Continuity of a potential MEC group when the identity of the top company changes – assumptions about the test company failing the COT.....	C10-2-390
Assumptions about the test company failing the COT – potential MEC group ceases to exist	C10-2-391
Assumptions about the test company failing the COT – MEC group ceases to exist because there ceases to be a provisional head company.....	C10-2-392
Acquisition of part of a MEC group – transfer of losses to newly formed consolidated group	C10-2-395
Cost setting at leaving
Events that trigger pooling in a MEC group	C10-2-410
Pooling of external membership interests	C10-2-420
An eligible tier-1 company leaving a MEC group	C10-2-430

Notification forms

The notification forms with instructions for their completion can be found at ato.gov.au/consolidation