Demutualisation

30. Division 326 of Schedule 2H sets out the income tax consequences of the demutualisation of mutual entities (as defined in section 326-10 of Schedule 2H) other than insurance companies and health insurers.

31. EPAL was a mutual entity as defined in section 326-10 of Schedule 2H as immediately before the Demutualisation Resolution Day, EPAL was a body corporate (subsection 326-10(1) of Schedule 2H) that:

- was not an insurance company, a mutual affiliate company, private health insurer, or a health or life insurer (paragraphs 326-10(1)(a) to (bb) of Schedule 2H)
- was not carried on for the object of securing a profit or pecuniary gain for its members (paragraph 326-10(1)(c) of Schedule 2H), and
- did not have capital divided into shares held by its members nor hold property in which any of its members had a disposable interest (directly or indirectly) (paragraphs 326-10(1)(d) and (e) of Schedule 2H).

32. EPAL passed a demutualisation resolution that met the requirements of paragraph 326-5(1)(a) of Schedule 2H on 26 October 2021 (Demutualisation Resolution Day) which was after 14 March 2002.

33. EPAL was an Australian resident (as defined in subsection 6(1)) immediately before the Demutualisation Resolution Day (paragraph 326-5(1)(b) of Schedule 2H).

34. EPAL demutualised on 4 February 2022 under the 'holding company method' prescribed in section 326-50 of Schedule 2H, being one of the methods mentioned in section 326-40 of Schedule 2H (paragraph 326-5(1)(c) of Schedule 2H). EPAL satisfied the requirements of the holding company method as follows:

- EPAL members had their membership rights extinguished
- EPAL was converted to a company limited by share capital and is therefore a demutualised entity as EPAL ceased to be a mutual entity without ceasing to be a body corporate (subsection 326-10(3) of Schedule 2H)
- ordinary shares of only one class in EPAL were issued to APP, the 'holding company', within the limitation period (being the period of two years beginning on the Demutualisation Resolution Day or such further period as the Commissioner allows pursuant to subsection 326-20(3) of Schedule 2H), and

Status: not legally binding

- ordinary shares of only one class in APP were issued to EPAL members within the limitation period.

35. The demutualisation of EPAL was completed on the day on which all the shares in the holding company, APP that were to be issued in connection with the demutualisation had been issued, being 4 February 2022 (paragraph 326-5(2)(b)), which is after 12 May 1998 (paragraph 326-5(1)(e) of Schedule 2H).

36. The demutualisation of EPAL satisfied the continuity of beneficial interest test in section 326-60 of Schedule 2H to the ITAA 1936 (paragraph 326-5(1)(d) of Schedule 2H), as:

- all members of EPAL had the opportunity to take up shares in the holding company, APP under the demutualisation (paragraph 326-60(2)(a) of Schedule 2H)
- more than 90% of the shares in the holding company, APP that were issued in connection with the demutualisation, were issued to EPAL members (paragraph 326-60(2)(b) of Schedule 2H), and
- the accumulated surplus of EPAL was allocated in the form of APP shares to EPAL members in proportions that broadly accorded with any one or more of the matters identified in paragraph 326-60(2)(c) of Schedule 2H.

37. Therefore, the demutualisation of EPAL satisfied the requirements in section 326-5 of Schedule 2H. The shares in APP received by EPAL members under the demutualisation are Demutualisation Shares as defined in 326-25 of Schedule 2H.

Capital gains tax

38. Subdivision 326-C of Schedule 2H sets out the capital gains tax (CGT) consequences of the extinguishment of membership rights in a mutual entity (as defined in section 326-10 of Schedule 2H) other than insurance companies and health insurers.

39. When a membership right in EPAL ended as a result of the demutualisation of EPAL, CGT event C2 occurred (subsection 104-25(1) of the ITAA 1997). The time of the CGT event was the Demutualisation Date, being 4 February 2022 (subsection 104-25(2) of the ITAA 1997).

40. Section 326-65 of Schedule 2H provides that where membership rights are extinguished as mentioned in paragraph 326-50(1)(a) of Schedule 2H, the capital gain or capital loss arising from the extinguishment is to be disregarded.

41. Subdivision 326-E of Schedule 2H sets out the CGT consequences of the disposal of Demutualisation Shares where the entity or the holding company becomes a company that is not a listed public company. Under section 326-150 or section 326-165 of Schedule 2H, as relevant, the Demutualisation Shares are taken to have been acquired by EPAL members on the Demutualisation Resolution Day for the purposes of determining the CGT consequences of the disposal of those shares.
