Draft Taxation Determination

Income tax: capital gains: is know-how a CGT asset?

Preamble

Draft Taxation determinations (DTDs) present the preliminary, though considered, views of the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). DTDs should not be relied on; only final Taxation Determinations represent authoritative statements by the ATO.

1. No. Know-how is not a CGT asset because it is not a form of property nor a legal or equitable right.
2. Know-how is knowledge or information rather than a CGT asset.

Note 1

3. A right in respect of know-how, such as a contractual right to require the disclosure or non-disclosure of know how, is a CGT asset under subsection 108-5(1) of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. Similarly, a licence to use know-how is a CGT asset.

Note 2

4. There may be implications under the revenue provisions of the income tax law for receipts for supplying or imparting knowledge or information: see section 6-5.
