- (1) A person is not criminally responsible for an offence against section 400.3, 400.4, 400.5, 400.6 or 400.7 in relation to money or property if:
- (a) at or before the time of dealing with the money or property, the person considered what was the value of the money or property, and was under a mistaken but reasonable belief about that value; and
  - (b) had the value been what the person believed it to be, the person's conduct would have constituted another offence against this Division for which the maximum penalty, in penalty units, is less than the maximum penalty, in penalty units, for the offence charged.

Example: Assume that a person deals with money or property that is the proceeds of crime. While the person believes it to be proceeds of crime, he or she is under a mistaken but reasonable belief that it is worth $90,000 when it is in fact worth $120,000.

That belief is a defence to an offence against subsection 400.4(1) (which deals with money or property of a value of $100,000 or more). However, the person would be guilty of an offence against subsection 400.5(1) (which deals with money or property of a value of $10,000 or more). Section 400.14 allows for an alternative verdict of guilty of an offence against subsection 400.5(1).

Note: A defendant bears an evidential burden in relation to the matter in subsection (1) (see subsection 13.3(3)).

- (2) A person may be regarded as having considered what the value of the money or property was if:
- (a) he or she had considered, on a previous occasion, what the value of the money or property was in the circumstances surrounding that occasion; and
  - (b) he or she honestly and reasonably believed that the circumstances surrounding the present occasion were the same, or substantially the same, as those surrounding the previous occasion.

400.11 Proof of certain matters relating to kinds of offences not required

In a prosecution for an offence against a provision of this Division, it is not necessary to prove the existence of any fault element in relation to any of the following:

- (a) whether an offence may be dealt with as an indictable offence;
- (b) whether an offence is an indictable offence;
- (c) whether an offence is a Commonwealth indictable offence;
- (d) whether an offence is a foreign indictable offence.

400.12 Combining several contraventions in a single charge

(1) A single charge of an offence against a provision of this Division may be about 2 or more instances of the defendant engaging in conduct (at the same time or different times) that constitutes an offence against a provision of this Division.

(2) If:

- (a) a single charge is about 2 or more such instances; and
- (b) the value of the money and other property dealt with is an element of the offence in question;

that value is taken to be the sum of the values of the money and other property dealt with in respect of each of those instances.

400.13 Proof of other offences is not required

(1) To avoid doubt, it is not necessary, in order to prove for the purposes of this Division that money or property is proceeds of crime, to establish:

- (a) a particular offence was committed in relation to the money or property; or
- (b) a particular person committed an offence in relation to the money or property.

(2) To avoid doubt, it is not necessary, in order to prove for the purposes of this Division an intention or risk that money or property will be an instrument of crime, to establish that:

- (a) an intention or risk that a particular offence will be committed in relation to the money or property; or
- (b) an intention or risk that a particular person will commit an offence in relation to the money or property.

400.14 Alternative verdicts

If, on a trial for an offence against a provision of this Division (the offence charged), the trier of fact:

- (a) is not satisfied that the defendant is guilty of the offence charged; but
- (b) is otherwise satisfied that the defendant is guilty of another offence against this Division for which the maximum penalty, in penalty units, is less than the maximum penalty, in penalty units, for the offence charged;

the trier of fact may find the defendant not guilty of the offence charged but guilty of the other offence, so long as the person has been accorded procedural fairness in relation to that finding of guilt.

400.15 Geographical jurisdiction

Section 15.2 (extended geographical jurisdiction—category B) applies to each offence against this Division.

400.16 Saving of other laws

This Division is not intended to exclude or limit the operation of any other law of the Commonwealth or any law of a State or Territory.

- (1) If:
- (a) a foreign country requests the Attorney-General to make arrangements for the enforcement of:
    - (i) a foreign forfeiture order, made in respect of a foreign serious offence, against property that is reasonably suspected of being located in Australia; or
    - (ii) a foreign pecuniary penalty order, made in respect of a foreign serious offence, where some or all of the property available to satisfy the order is reasonably suspected of being located in Australia; and
  - (b) the Attorney-General is satisfied that:
    - (i) a person has been convicted of the offence; and
    - (ii) the conviction and the order are not subject to further appeal in the foreign country;
- the Attorney-General may authorise the DPP, in writing, to apply for the registration of the order in a specified court.
- (2) If a foreign country that is specified in regulations made for the purposes of this subsection requests the Attorney-General to make arrangements for the enforcement of:
- (a) a foreign forfeiture order that:
    - (i) has the effect of forfeiting a person's property on the basis that the property is, or is alleged to be, the proceeds or an instrument of a foreign serious offence (whether or not a person has been convicted of that offence); and
    - (ii) is made against property that is reasonably suspected of being located in Australia; or
  - (b) a foreign pecuniary penalty order in respect of which both of the following apply:
    - (i) the order has the effect of requiring a person to pay an amount of money on the basis that the money is, or is

- alleged to be, the benefit derived from a foreign serious offence (whether or not the person has been convicted of that offence);
- (ii) some or all of the property available to satisfy the order is reasonably suspected of being located in Australia;
- the Attorney-General may authorise the DPP, in writing, to apply for the registration of the order in a specified court.
- (3) If a foreign country requests the Attorney-General to make arrangements for the enforcement of a foreign restraining order, against property that is reasonably suspected of being located in Australia, that is:
- (a) in any case—made in respect of a foreign serious offence for which a person has been convicted; or
- (b) if the foreign country is specified in regulations made for the purposes of subsection (2)—made in respect of the alleged commission of a foreign serious offence (whether or not the identity of the person who committed the offence is known);
- the Attorney-General may authorise the DPP, in writing, to apply for the registration of the order in a specified court.
- (4) The court that the Attorney-General specifies under subsection (1), (2) or (3) must be a court with proceeds jurisdiction in a State or Territory in which the property, or some or all of the property, is reasonably suspected of being located.

34A Registration of foreign orders

- (1) If the DPP applies to a court for registration of a foreign order in accordance with an authorisation under this Subdivision, the court must register the order accordingly.
- (2) The DPP must give notice of the application:
- (a) to specified persons the DPP has reason to suspect may have an interest in the property; and
- (b) to such other persons as the court directs.
- (3) However, the court must consider the application without notice having been given if the DPP requests the court to do so.

- (4) If a foreign pecuniary penalty order or a foreign restraining order is registered in a court under this Subdivision:
- (a) a copy of any amendments made to the order (whether before or after registration) may be registered in the same way as the order; and
  - (b) the amendments do not, for the purposes of this Act and the Proceeds of Crime Act, have effect until they are registered.
- (5) An order or an amendment of an order is to be registered in a court by the registration, in accordance with the rules of the court, of:
- (a) a copy of the appropriate order or amendment sealed by the court or other authority making that order or amendment; or
  - (b) a copy of that order or amendment duly authenticated in accordance with subsection 43(2).

- (2) In particular, section 68 of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 applies in relation to the forfeiture order as if:
- (a) the reference in subparagraph 68(1)(b)(i) of that Act to the DPP having applied for the order were a reference to the foreign forfeiture order having been made; and
  - (b) subparagraph 68(1)(b)(ii) of that Act did not apply if the person in question died after the DPP applied for registration of the order under section 34A of this Act.
- (3) Subject to section 34C, property that is subject to a foreign forfeiture order registered under this Subdivision may be disposed of, or otherwise dealt with, in accordance with any direction of the Attorney-General or of a person authorised by the Attorney-General in writing for the purposes of this subsection.

    - (ii) if the registration relates to an authorisation given under subsection 34(2)—is not a person whom the court has reason to believe committed a foreign serious offence in respect of which the order was made;
- may apply to the court for an order under subsection (2).

Orders by the court

- (2) If, on an application for an order under this subsection, the court is satisfied that:
- (a) the applicant was not, in any way, involved in the commission of a foreign serious offence in respect of which the foreign forfeiture order was made; and
  - (b) if the applicant acquired the interest in the property at the time of or after the commission of such an offence—the property was neither proceeds nor an instrument of such an offence;
- the court must make an order:
- (c) declaring the nature, extent and value (as at the time when the order is made) of the applicant's interest in the property; and
  - (d) either:
    - (i) directing the Commonwealth to transfer the interest to the applicant; or

  - (b) requires the payment to the Commonwealth of the amount payable under the order.
- (2) Any amount paid (whether in Australia, in the foreign country in which the order was made or elsewhere) in satisfaction of the foreign pecuniary penalty order is taken to have been paid in satisfaction of the debt that arises because of the registration of the foreign pecuniary penalty order in that court.

  - (b) directed that the property specified in the order is not to be disposed of or otherwise dealt with by any person.
- (2) In particular:

34G Cancelling registration

- (1) The Attorney-General may direct the DPP to apply to a court in which:
  - (a) a foreign pecuniary penalty order; or
  - (b) a foreign restraining order;has been registered under this Subdivision for cancellation of the registration.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the Attorney-General may give a direction under that subsection in relation to an order if the Attorney-General is satisfied that:

  - (b) cancellation of the order is appropriate having regard to the arrangements entered into between Australia and the foreign country in relation to the enforcement of orders of that kind.

- (3) The fact that an application has been made under section 14 of the Proceeds of Crime Act 1987 for an order for the forfeiture of property in respect of an offence does not in any other case prevent the DPP applying for a forfeiture order under Part 2-2 of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 covering property in respect of the offence.
