

PS LA 2001/8 - ATO interpretative decisions

 This cover sheet is provided for information only. It does not form part of PS LA 2001/8 - ATO interpretative decisions

 This document has changed over time. This version was published on 22 January 2025

 This practice statement was originally published on 31 March 2001. Versions published from 2 September 2009 are available electronically - refer to the online version of the practice statement. Versions published prior to this date are not available electronically. If needed, these can be requested by emailing TCNLawPublishingandPolicy@ato.gov.au .

This Practice Statement explains the policy for ATO interpretative decisions.

This Practice Statement is an internal ATO document and an instruction to ATO staff.

1. ATO interpretative decisions

An ATO interpretative decision (ATO ID) is a summarised version of a decision we have made on the application of the law¹ to a particular situation. We issued ATO IDs between 2001 and 2016.

2. Why we have ATO IDs

ATO IDs set out a precedential ATO view, as explained in Law Administration Practice Statement PS LA 2003/3 Precedential ATO view.

We produce precedential ATO views to ensure we provide consistent interpretative decision-making. You must search for existing precedential ATO views and those being prepared when resolving interpretative issues.

You must follow an ATO ID where:

- in your judgment, there is no material difference between the facts of the issue you are making a decision on and the facts of an existing ATO ID, and
- you are satisfied that the application of the precedential ATO view set out in the ATO ID will result in a correct decision.²

An interpretative issue is one where the application of the law is not straightforward.

An exercise of a discretion, a conclusion of fact or the determination of a value, for example, would not be an interpretative issue.

3. Taxpayer reliance on ATO IDs

ATO IDs are publications approved in writing by the Commissioner and therefore offer penalty and interest protection to any taxpayer who might rely on them.³

4. Maintaining the currency of ATO IDs

In line with the requirements of PS LA 2003/3, business lines must have processes in place to ensure

ATO IDs, as precedential ATO view documents, are reviewed and (if necessary and in a timely manner) updated, withdrawn and replaced (with an appropriate replacement product), or withdrawn.

We no longer prepare new ATO IDs or significantly update existing ATO IDs.

Amending ATO IDs – minor updates

ATO IDs that require only a minor update, which does not affect the decision or reasons for decision, can be amended.

Withdrawing and replacing ATO IDs – substantial updates

If an ATO ID requires a substantial update, it should be withdrawn and an appropriate replacement product produced.

You should:

- consult with your business line's Public Advice and Guidance (PAG) Unit, as listed in PAG – Key contacts (link available internally only), to determine the most appropriate product, and
- (if necessary) follow the procedures for developing PAG products in PAG development procedures – end to end (link available internally only).

As a general rule, an ATO ID should not be withdrawn before the replacement product is published.

Withdrawing ATO IDs without replacement

In limited circumstances (for example, where the provision which the ATO ID discusses has been repealed but not replaced or the issue covered no longer has sufficient value to warrant the investment in producing the replacement product), the ATO ID may not need to be replaced.

¹ Law administered by the Commissioner includes law governing income tax, indirect taxes, fringe benefits tax, withholding taxes, resource rent taxes, superannuation and excise.

² If following the ATO ID would result in an incorrect decision, you should escalate the issue as per the process in PS LA 2003/3.

³ See sections 361-5 and 298-20 of Schedule 1 to the Taxation Administration Act 1953.

Note that normally you should not withdraw an ATO ID where it is still correct. There is no value in doing this.
