STATEMENT

1. ORCLA is a 'virtual' manual of policies, procedures and other instructions for staff who make technical decisions in respect of laws administered by the Commissioner of Taxation. ORCLA replaces the ATO Advice Manual.
2. Tax Office staff who carry out technical decision making must follow the policies and procedures set down in ORCLA.
3. ORCLA may be accessed via the link available in the Other References section at the end of this practice statement.

Business line supplementary policy and procedures

4. Tax Office staff must follow any of their business line supplementary policy and procedures that are incorporated in ORCLA.

5. Business lines are responsible for the currency and maintenance of their own material contained in ORCLA, and must submit all proposed changes to the ORCLA Reference Group mailbox in Outlook for editorial approval.

Status of linked documents

6. As a 'virtual' manual, ORCLA refers to documents that are stored elsewhere but accessible from ORCLA. The documents listed in paragraph 13 are to be treated as part of ORCLA, and adherence to their content is also mandatory.

Currency of ORCLA

7. The online version of ORCLA is the only current version of ORCLA. Tax officers must check the online version for updates before finalising their work.
8. All material changes to ORCLA are recorded in 'What's New' and listed in each document's version control table. Officers who require previous versions of updated documents should contact the ORCLA Reference Group.
9. Tax officers who have any concerns about the accuracy or currency of the material in ORCLA should contact the ORCLA Reference Group.
10. Additionally, where there is any reason to doubt the correctness or applicability of technical information provided in ORCLA, the matter must be escalated for review (together with documented reasons) in accordance with the escalation process of the relevant business line.

EXPLANATION

11. ORCLA contains or links to the corporate policies and procedures, as well as business lines' supplementary policies and procedures (where relevant), on:
  - Division 359 private rulings and Division 358 public rulings
  - indirect tax private and public rulings
  - administratively binding advice
  - advice about proposed changes to tax laws
  - written guidance
  - oral rulings, and
  - Part IVC taxation objections.
12. ORCLA has been designed for ease of use in an on-line environment, and includes various searching options for quick access to information. While there is a strong emphasis on written binding advice it will be progressively expanded to cover all technical decision making in accordance with corporate priorities.

Linked documents to be treated as part of ORCLA

13. The following documents are to be treated as part of ORCLA and are linked from it:
  - the Public Rulings Manual, and
  - oral ruling policies and procedures.
